

MAYOR WILSON ISSUES TRUMPET CALL TO ZION

Drive for Members Meets Tremendous Success With East Side Leading—Ben Mossinson, Rector of Gymnasium in Palestine Will Address Hungarian Jews.

Mayor Clifford B. Wilson today issues a call to all Jews to give aid and support to the Zionist drive, which is nearly half way on the road to its goal in Bridgeport.

Last night it passed the 1,100 mark, or a gain of 400 in one day, and by tonight the campaign is expected to enroll another 400 members. The East Side teams continue to lead, all the other districts by a big margin, and the East Side district last night turned in 191 names, bringing its grand total to 316. The other three districts of the city are running a close race.

An enthusiastic mass meeting was held last evening at the Madison avenue synagogue. Attorney Samuel Schneer presided as chairman of the meeting. The chief speaker was Attorney Samuel Nathanson of New Haven. Others who gave addresses were Attorney Charles H. Shapiro, H. J. Beck, George Greenstein, and Rabbi Henry Einhorn. The congregation indicated that it would enroll 100 per cent in the campaign.

A mass meeting for the Hungarian Jews will be held this evening at 8 o'clock at the Cherry street synagogue, with a number of speakers on the program. Tomorrow evening there will be a meeting at Park avenue temple which will be addressed by Dr. Ben Mossinson, rector of the Hebrew Gymnasium of Joffa, Palestine.

ST. SABAS.

The first order of Christian anchorites established in Palestine was founded by St. Sabas, whose festival is celebrated today, the anniversary of his death in the year 532. This renowned patriarch of the monks of Palestine came of a wealthy family, but a dispute among relatives about the settlement of an estate so disgusted him that he took to the woods and entered a monastery. At the age of eighteen he went to Jerusalem, but later sought seclusion in the wilderness. He made his home in a cave on the top of a mountain. The fame of his holiness spread abroad, and many came to him, desiring to serve God under his direction. He finally founded a new monastery of men who desired "to devote themselves to the praise and service of God without interruption," and gained hundreds of adherents. Some of the oldest Christian monasteries in the world, scattered in remote places over the deserts of Asia and Africa, were founded by monks who had received inspiration from St. Sabas. In the latter part of his long life, St. Sabas was the superior-general of all the anchorites of Palestine.

The only remaining indication that the Germans are supermen is the superstitious belief that their high muckermucks have taken to the tall timber.

RED BLOODED MEN WIN OUT

They Are Always on Top in Every Walk of Life.

It is a fact that red blooded men and women are at the top in every walk of life. Men and women with the driving force of red blood, rich in iron and phosphates do things, they get results.

Red blooded women are the heads of the household and most contented homes, they have the will and the desire to be real companions and helpmates.

Leadership and happiness is only for the men and women who are willing to keep their blood and nerves strengthened and nourished with Iron and Phosphates.

A prominent doctor says, "It is a crime that so many men and women lack the rich, red blood and strong steady nerve to achieve their ambitions. It is all the more so because thin, watery blood is unnecessary, as rich, red blood and strong nerves are within the grasp of everyone. Phosphated Iron makes pure blood, making new blood. It gives strength, brings color to the cheeks, increases the weight and appetite, drives away the blues and those sleepless nights, steadies and renews your nervous energy, makes you feel like a live one once again."

There must be something to it. Everyone who tries it is loud in praise of Phosphated Iron, and you have got to show people these days. To insure physicians and their patients receiving the genuine Phosphated Iron it has been put up in capsules only. Do not allow dealers to give you pills or tablets. Insist on capsules. ## EVANS IS AWARDED DAMAGES OF $500

John G. Evans of this city was awarded a verdict to collect $350 damages from Arthur J. Corbett of West Haven by a jury in the common pleas court, yesterday afternoon. Evans sued for $1,000 for injuries received when brushed from the running board of a trolley car of which he was conductor at Dorsen avenue in New Haven, July 12, 1917. The case was given to the jury shortly before the lunch hour yesterday after a trial lasting all of Tuesday and yesterday forenoon. Judge Booth accepted the verdict. Attorney Henry E. Shannon of this city represented Evans.

"BLACK FRIDAYS" OF FINANCE

Several of the great financial panics of the past have commenced on a Friday and this has given rise to one of the pet superstitions of the stock exchanges and bourses all over the world—that the sixth day of the week is fraught with ill omen for those engaged in financial operations.

The original "Black Friday" occurred 133 years ago tomorrow, Dec. 6, 1745, in London. On that date the tidings reached the metropolis that the Pretender Bonnie Prince Charlie had reached Derby with his forces. Londoners immediately made preparations to fly from the city, and a wild panic prevailed. It was on that occasion that the Bank of England had the closest call in its long history. The citizens were anxious to take their money with them in their flight, and the Bank of England was besieged by an army of depositors. In that crisis the bank escaped bankruptcy only by the expedient of placing "dummies" in the line to impede the genuine depositors, and by paying bona fide depositors in small coin.

The first "Black Friday" of latter day financial history was in 1868, just about fifty-two years ago, and was due to the failure of one of London's largest banking houses. Three years later Wall Street had a "Black Friday" due to an attempt to engineer a corner in gold. The worst of all financial "Black Fridays" was that of 1873, when, on Friday, Sept. 18th, it seemed that the whole financial fabric of the New World had crumbled into hopeless ruins.

RECONSTRUCTION.

(Written by Agnes Reppeler for the National Security League.)

If there is to be a policy of reconstruction in the United States, the first thing to be reconstructed should be the cost of living. Nothing else is so important. Few things are important at all by comparison with this universal need. It is no use minding matters. For the past year, only the well-to-do, the war-workers, and domestic servants have had enough to eat. The price of food has been prohibitive.

When a woman who bought a quart of milk every day last year buys only a pint this year, because that is all she can afford, her children are ill-nourished. When a woman is forced to market this year on the same income which served her scantily last year (and thousands upon thousands are so forced), her children are ill-nourished. It is pitiful to see the decent poor, the genteel poor, the poor who strive to hide their poverty from the world, pricing piece after piece of meat in a butcher's stall, and leaving it all unbought.

The country has long endured this food shortage, because it wanted its soldiers and its allies to be fed. The first fruits of peace should be, if not plenty, at least some faint approach to plenty. We are told that we must now feed our enemies as well as our allies, and we are ready to do our part. Heaven forbid that we should seek to starve Germany, as Germany starved Belgium and Serbia; as she purposely starved her British prisoners when she refused to allow the plying French women to give them a bit of bread. We want no retaliatory measures. That would degrade us to Germany's level. But we do want to nourish our own population before we nourish her's; to bring the price of food within the buying power of Americans before we export it to Berlin.

ULRICA OF SWEDEN.

Ulrica was the daughter of Charles XI., of Sweden, and was born in 1689. She governed the kingdom during the absence of her brother, Charles XII., and after his death was proclaimed queen. A year later, in 1720, she resigned the crown to her husband, with whom she shared the honors of royalty. The nobles, however, gained ascendancy over them and they were obliged to acknowledge their right to the throne rested on the will of the people. Ulrica was greatly beloved by her people, and her acquiescence in their demands for recognition served to strengthen her position. She died in 1741. Her mother, wife of Charles XII., also bore the name of Ulrica, and died in consequence of the chagrin which her husband's brutal treatment had occasioned.

Because "Pape's Cold Compound" relieves cold or gripe misery in a few hours—Really wonderful!

Don't stuff-up! Quit blowing and snuffing! A dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" taken every two hours until three doses are taken will end gripe misery and break up a severe cold either in the head, chest, body or limbs.
